

Booklist

We are a course for adults, and as such, appreciate that many of our students have families and other financial commitments. Consequently, we never expect our learners to buy their own books - we have many books in the library as well as access to numerous online books.

Nevertheless, we often have students asking for ideas about what books to read. Therefore, below, tutors have put together a 'starter' booklist. These can be borrowed from your local library – you may even be able to access them for free online.

Some of you may wish to buy them, but please make sure it is 'your' style of book before you hand your money over – different authors write differently, and not all appeal to all students.

These books have been listed in terms of subject, rather than pathway.
